How is capability assessment related to risk assessment? Evaluating existing research and current application from a design science perspective

Short Statement: Author

BIOGRAPHY

Waleed Shoib is a PhD Candidate at the Division of Risk Management and Societal Safety, Lund University, Lund, Sweden. He holds a Post-bachelor Certification in Non-profit Management from the University of Texas and a Master of Disaster Management degree from the University of Copenhagen. Waleed also served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in South America, and was a Peace Corps Fellow at the Harry Truman School of Public Affairs at the University of Missouri, USA.

His research area of interest is within the field of risk governance and resilience. Waleed is interested in understanding how countries and societies with different forms of government tend to govern specific types of risks. His PhD project will be a comparative study with a multidisciplinary approach for studying risk governance in the field.

Waleed's research is associated both to the Centre for Societal Resilience and Lund University Centre for Risk Assessment and Management (LUCRAM).
